To:

Dear Sir or Madam:

The Foundation Contractor Certification Program of the Concrete Foundations Association was designed to establish minimum standards of performance for companies involved in the residential concrete foundation business.

Companies receiving the designation as a Concrete Foundations Association Certified Contractor have demonstrated that they have satisfied the requirements of the CFA including knowledge of foundation systems and materials, history and performance of the company, safety practices, and ethics.

The Concrete Foundations Association is a non-profit trade association comprised of contractors, professionals, suppliers, and manufacturers throughout North America involved in the construction of residential foundations.

SECTION I - PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

Mission Statement:

The mission of the Certified Foundation Contractor program is to establish and maintain a high standard of integrity, quality, and practice in the construction of residential foundation systems.

1. Company certification is valid for a period of one year. Companies must meet the criteria for renewal on an annual basis to maintain certification.
2. The certification program has three levels of certification.
 - Level 1 – Contractors meeting the criteria who have been in operation for less than three years.
 - Level 2 – Contractors meeting the criteria that have had a minimum of three years of continuous operation.
 - Level 3 (not active at this time) – Contractors meeting the criteria of Level 2 with additional criteria for above grade and structural slab construction. You must be a Level 2 contractor to qualify for Level 3.
3. At least one employee of the company must pass a basic knowledge exam covering materials, methods, codes, and standards related to the residential foundation industry. An individual who has passed the exam must be under the direct employment of the company at all times. The basis for this knowledge is derived from the CFA Standard, Chapter 4 of the International Residential Code, the ACI-332 Standard, and the ACI-332 Guide and other publications compiled in the Foundation Certification Study Guide. The exam is open book and consists of 80 Multiple Choice Questions. A passing score is 70%.
4. At least two members of the Company must amass a minimum of 12 hours total of continuing education on an annual basis. A minimum of 4 hours must be in the area of building codes. The balance may be in materials, methods, or related areas. A list of approved seminars and venues is published on the CFA web site (www.cfawalls.org) and includes CFA-sponsored events and approved seminars at the World of Concrete and other venues. Other educational offerings may comply upon prior written approval of the Certification Committee.

5. Materials shall be submitted to the Concrete Foundations Association staff. Staff and an independent consultant will review the applications, verify the information submitted as part of the requirements, and notify the respective companies of acceptance of their application and if additional or clarifying information is needed. Staff and the consultant will forward the information to the Foundation Contractor Certification Review Board (FCCRB) with a recommendation for approval or denial once all information is received.
6. The cost of initial certification includes review of submitted materials, verification of insurance and other relevant information by staff or an independent consultant, and recommendation to the Foundation Contractor Certification Review Board (FCCRB). The cost of educational seminars, the basic knowledge exam, insurance, and other costs associated with certification program are not included.
7. Payment shall be made to: Concrete Foundations Association (US funds only).
Program costs and fees are as follows:
 - Initial Certification Fee: $1,100 ($700 CFA Members)
 - Recertification fee: $1000 ($600 CFA Members)
 - Examination Fee – Basic Knowledge Exam: $150 ($75 CFA Members)
 - Foundation Certification Study Guide*: $200 ($110 CFA Members)
 - Seminars – Varies depending on Venue
8. After one year, Applicants must apply for recertification. Applicants must notify the CFA of any change in status from the original application.
9. Applications will be forward to the Foundation Contractor Certification Review Board (FCCRB) no later than 30 days after they are received and the Foundation Contractor Certification Review Board (FCCRB) will render their decision within 2 weeks of receipt.
10. If an applicant is denied certification, they will have the opportunity to correct deficiency and reapply or they may appeal the case to the Certification Appeals Board who will consider appeal and render a judgement based on the merit of each respective appeal.
11. DISCLAIMER: Concrete Foundations Association attempts to assist contractors and the public by establishing standards and practices. Concrete Foundations Association does not, and cannot, guaranty the quality or ability of any particular contractor. Nor does Concrete Foundations Association represent or warrant (a) the quality or fitness of any particular project or work or (b) that any particular project or work will comply with the Association's standards or with standards established by any other entity.
12. INDEMNIFICATION: Company agrees to indemnify the Concrete Foundations Association and to hold it harmless from action, claim, or judgment against the Association relating to the actions, performance, or conduct of the Company or to any project or work undertaken, built, or performed by the Company. The Company's obligation under this provision include, but is not limited to, the obligation to pay any claims, judgments, fines, or assessments against the Association as well as any cost or fees (including attorney fees) incurred by the Association in defending against any action, claim, procedure, or judgment.

To:

Dear Concrete Foundations Association (CFA) Certification Applicant:

We have recently received your application for CFA Certification and we are glad to inform you that it has been reviewed and accepted. Your certification number is XXXXXXXX and by using this number you have proof of your participation in the "Concrete Foundations Association Certification" program. You may also go to our web-page (www.cfawalls.org) and check your status.

Your certification expires every June 30. We will send you all of the necessary forms to renew. In order to renew your certification, at least two individuals in your company must complete a combined twelve (12) hours of continuing education each year. The CFA hosts three (3) seminars every year. Dates and times for the CFA event may change from year to year, one in the spring (April), one during the summer (July or August) and one in the fall (September or October). In addition, other coursework can be applied if the courses are approved by the CFA Education Review Board. You will have to complete your continuing education in order to renew for 2009. You may also register on-line. If you are unable to make it to a seminar, there is a list of approved classes under education-approved classes on our web site, www.cfawalls.org. These classes have already been submitted and approved by the CFA Education Review Board. If you attend classes that have not been approved, you may also submit the class and instructor information to be reviewed by the Board for approval. Please contact our office and request a continuing education request form to be sent to you via mail, fax or e-mail.

DISCLOSURES PREVIOUS LICENSE/DISCIPLINARY ACTION: The contractor-applicant shall disclose, at the time of application, any current or previous contractor license held in any state(s) and any disciplinary actions taken against such contractor-applicant. If the contractor-applicant is employed by or a principal of a firm, the application shall disclose whether the firm or firm's employees or principals have had any contractor-related disciplinary action taken against them in any state(s). No certification license shall be issued to any contractor-applicant who has had a license suspended or revoked for disciplinary reason, or who has surrendered a license during any disciplinary proceeding or investigation, within the immediately preceding five (5) years. Any contractor-applicant denied a license under the provisions of this section may appeal such denial to the Concrete Certification Board.

Disclaimer: The contractor-application certifies that the applicant (or applicants designated representative) is currently qualified for licensure and is a full-time employee of the contractor-applicant. Any false statements made in this application by the contractor-applicant licensee will result in license suspension or revocation.

You should be receiving your certification and identification card in three (3) to four (4) weeks from the date that we received all necessary documentation to process your certification. A receipt of payment will accompany your certification. If you have any questions, feel free to contact our office 319-895-6940. Thank you.
